

Pre-Natural Resources (Two-year) Transfer Program

Georgia Southern University, in cooperation with the Warnell School of Forestry and Natural Resources, University of Georgia, offers a joint program of study for students interested in pursuing a degree and career in natural resources, including fisheries, wildlife, soil and water resources, environmental assessment, or forestry. Students selecting pre-natural resources follow a prescribed curriculum, depending on the intended major, at Georgia Southern University during the freshman and sophomore years. This curriculum prepares students for transfer to the Warnell School of Forest Resources to complete a Bachelor of Science in Forest Resources (BSFR). A limited number of students are accepted into the forest resources program. Students seeking admission to the University of Georgia, Warnell School of Forestry and Natural Resources must complete an application which is separate from the University of Georgia admission application. Application for Fall Semester admission should be submitted by March 1st, and for Spring Semester submitted by October 1st.

Application and scholarship forms may be obtained from the Undergraduate Coordinator, School of Forest Resources. For complete admission information contact the Office of Student Services, Warnell School of Forestry and Natural Resources, UGA, Athens, GA, 30602, phone: (706)542-1456; fax: (706)542-8356; URL: www.uga.edu/wsfr/; e-mail: undergradinfo@forestry.uga.edu.

The advisor for the pre-forestry program at Georgia Southern University is: Dr. Lissa M. Leege, Department of Biology, Georgia Southern University, Statesboro, GA 30460-8042, phone: (912)681-0800; fax: (912)681-0845; e-mail: Leege@GeorgiaSouthern.edu.
